Scripture/Encouragement Cards

Do you want to make God smile? Do you try to live as he teaches, but find it difficult? In my new devotional, Making God Smile: Living the Fruit of the Spirit One Day at a Time, we journey together to live the life God wants us to live—a life filled with faithfulness, self-control, patience, gentleness, kindness, love, goodness, peace, and joy (the fruit of the Spirit found in Galatians 5:22.)

Pages 2 and 3 of this PDF contain Scripture/Encouragement Cards that will help us keep our eyes on God throughout our day. These sheets are formatted to print on most perforated business card stock that you can find at your local office supply store. If you print these pages on that type of paper, just gently rip along the perforations to separate these sheets into small cards. Or you can print them on a regular piece of paper or cardstock at home and cut them out with a scissors. Either way, you'll end up with a small note of Scriptural encouragement that you can easily tuck in your purse or pocket, include inside a notecard or birthday card, or to hand to a friend when you meet for coffee or lunch. Whoever uses them can keep them nearby for a little dose of encouragement when they need it most.

Be quick to listen, slow to speak,
and slow to get angry.

JAMES 1:19

A gentle answer deflects anger,
but harsh words make tempers flare.

PROVERBS 15:1

Making God Smile | KimTaylorHenry.com

God isn't expecting perfection.
He's looking for a right heart and progress.

Making God Smile | KimTaylorHenry.com

Forgive yourself.
God already has!

Making God Smile | KimTaylorHenry.com

Patient endurance means standing firm,
not in our own strength, but God's.
He'll handle the rest.

Am I building barriers or bridges?

Making God Smile | KimTaylorHenry.com

Self-absorption is a dead-end.

Making God Smile | KimTaylorHenry.com

Lord, give me the peace of accepting the facts, doing what I can, then
leaving the matter in your hands.

Making God Smile | KimTaylorHenry.com

To understand love, look to God.
To be able to love, turn to God.
To live in love, abide in God.

Making God Smile | KimTaylorHenry.com

Joy is soul-touching awareness of God's grace, goodness, and love.

The joy of pleasing God is greater than the emptiness of seeking the approval of people.
